By rituals I mean daily or situational routines that define and shape your life for the better. I will follow a routine on Father's Day weekend that I've had for several years now. We usually go out to lunch with part of our extended family. This year we'll be eating out with my mom and dad. But after the lunch nothing else is planned because I'll be watching the final round of the U.S. Open golf championship. My family knows that I'll just not be available from the mid afternoon until the early evening on that day. It is their gift to me and my gift to myself on Father's Day. Now I know that watching grown men hit a little ball around the countryside may seem ridiculous to many of you, but I enjoy watching all the personal drama of the event. It is relaxing to me and helps me get away from all the other stressors in my life. I look forward to that particular weekend and others throughout the year when I can catch a break from what usually is a very busy part of my work schedule. And I find that as I plan and execute these times apart from my usual routines, afterwards I am more energized about getting back to all the good work that God has for me here. I hope that all of you are taking the time to get away and relax within your usual routine. I don't mind telling you that I've had extra stress this past year with church work, the effect of the downturn in our economy, and through illness. I know I'm not alone in this. So I hope you're still taking advantage of the opportunities that you have to get away and replenish yourself, to recharge your batteries. Even Jesus with only three years to accomplish his mission took time to get away to the wilderness to rest and recharge. And even if it's a personal getaway for just an afternoon every once in a while, that short getaway may be an important key to your continued happiness. Enjoy! Your Friend, Bro. VBS - June 15-19
Centri-Kid - June 29-July 3

Last Wednesday we had a most excellent adventure as 15 of us went to Holiday World to experience growing relationships and the new ride Pilgrim's Plunge. While not all of us were willing to ride it because of a fear of heights (which I am sure many of you are in that boat...pun intended), it was an awesome ride that has left me with one unforgettable memory. It is only when we experience life together that we are able to really get to know one another better and I am glad I had the opportunity to do that on our trip.

By the time many of you receive this paper in your mailbox VBS will be halfway done. As I am sure many of you are aware, it takes a great deal of time, effort, and energy on the part of all to make VBS happen. I want to challenge you to be encouragers toward all those who are involved in VBS the next time you see them. Let them know how much you appreciate the work they are doing (if you truly appreciate it). Let them know that you are praying for them (if you are praying for them). Then, on Friday, come to the closing celebration and balloon launch at 8:00pm. We would love to see all of you there as we witness the salvation message being sent across the state and eastern US on 300 balloons.

In the same VBS vein, it is not too late for your children to participate in this year's adventure to Rome. Bring them out tonight and the rest of the week and they will have an experience like nothing they have ever had before. See you tonight!!
